THEIR FATHER LEADS BRITISH ARMIES

Alexandra and Victoria Haig.

While their father is leading the British troops at the front, these two children, Alexandra and Victoria Haig, daughters of Sir Douglas Haig, British commander-in-chief, are enjoying fighting of a different variety. The angling at Deal, England, often provides a good fight for the hopeful angler, for the fish are not at all eager to be caught.

when he wants to. He is too courteous to berate Mr. Wilson personally, but he has learned without resorting to personalities to make the crowds understand who is to blame for all the back-tracking and shilly-shallying and trouble dodging of the past three years and a half. As a great American handshaker, he is a college champion, and 10,000 persons learned the Hughes grip is a good, stout, hearty man's grip. These daily manifested attributes of a good mixer are simple facts. They are playing almost as big a part in the campaign as Mr. Hughes's downright speeches. They deserve public notice.

ATTACKS SURRENDER IN THE STRIKE CASE

GREEN BAY, Wis., Sept. 21.—The pathway of "surrender to force," Charles E. Hughes told an audience here, in renewing his attack on the administration for the Adamson law, leads to but one end, "civil war." Mr. Hughes referred to the action of the administration as "unpardonable."

The nominee also declared that nobody could embarrass him by talking about Americanism.

"I am for the United States first, last and all the time, without regard to anyone or to anything else," he said.

Speaks as Labor's Friend.

"I speak with added emphasis as the friend of labor," Mr. Hughes said, in discussing the Adamson law, "when I say that the serious blow delivered recently at labor and enterprise in this country was unpardonable, that blow being the surrender of the principle of arbitration and the yielding of reason to force."

"We look forward in this country to a future very uncertain unless we have peaceful settlement of grievances by a careful examination and open-minded consideration of the facts."

"When A doesn't agree with B they are not allowed to fight it out in the public square. They have got to come into a court of law and fight it out there, not on the public square. We have had times when railroad companies refused absolutely to arbitrate grievances. But we have had public sentiment develop greatly since that time. We have a new spirit in this country, I firmly believe. All we have to do is to stand firmly for

DEMOCRATIC

Majority in Logan County This Year Will Be Reduced, Say Observers.

LOGAN, Sept. 21.—Logan county makes one promise and that is to greatly reduce the Democratic majority in the county. Prospects are bright for the election of a Republican member of the House of Delegates. There is a unity among the party workers not often seen before an election, and everyone of them is working in earnestness to bring about a change in the political complexion of the county.

With a little assistance from the head of the national and state tickets it will be possible to soon bring Logan into the list of Republican majority counties.
